

The right insights make all the difference.

TalentLens assessments are scientifically proven to guide your HR decisions.

Powered by eight decades of science, TalentLens assessments give you the foundation for making accurate hiring decisions and helping employees develop the 21st century skills they need to succeed.

Our instruments work together to give you the full spectrum of an individual's potential: How a person thinks and responds to stress, for instance. Or whether someone is good with numbers and can process information fast. You can also select from a range of job tests that predict success in specific occupations.

Choose from our portfolio of online assessments that are easy to administer, flexible, and time-saving. Each comes with an easy-to-read report with graphical illustrations for quick interpretation. And you can trust the results you obtain to make great, impactful hires.

Use our assessments

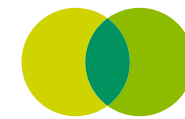

- To rank job applicants
- After the interview, to select finalists
- Once on board, to guide training
- Ongoing, to identify & develop leaders
